Karen: Hey! Did you already have today's phoner?
me: yep
me: they just wanted to ask about how specifically to present me in terms of my past involvement with Anonymous, and to reiterate that they'll want me to represent the point of view of online activists Karen: What are you going to say?
Karen: In terms of Anonymous, how me: Already told them, I'm glad to have supported some of those operations and can definitely speak from the vantage point of an online activist but I'm more interested now in moving forward with smaller groups that are a bit more serious, like Telecomix Karen: So, a past "supporter" of anonymous?
me: Yes
Karen: Past supporter of some of Anonymous's projects.
me: pretty much, yes
Karen: Especially during Arab Spring
me: I know, that's what I always emphasize Karen: now an activist for transparency...
me: it's already done, thanks
